

One missing rail: EPF.

SEBI-registered money advice, live on India's Account Aggregator, for the salaried middle class.

THE PROBLEM

Real advice isn't an app. It's a team.

~1,000

SEBI-registered investment advisers for 7 crore+ salaried EPF members

Everyone else gets an app that shows, and never decides.

BUILT, WAITING ON AA	EPF
NEXT	GSTR-1/3B parser

Advice on a partial picture doesn't get more accurate. It gets more confident.

EPF is the first hole on the AA rail; declared income (GST, then ITR) is next.

Rahul, 32, salaried. His EPF isn't on the rail.

55%

share of his surplus the engine asked for

A ₹23,123 catch-up on a ₹42,000 surplus — blind to ₹9.8L of EPF.

Same engine. Full picture.

55% → 34%

With EPF visible, it asks ₹8,679 a month less.

Declared income

Put EPF on the Account Aggregator rail. We'll test it the week it opens.

EPFO

Ask: EPFO onboarded as a data provider · EPF made a requestable AA data type

Ready: parser built against ReBIT's published EPF schema, XSD-validated

GSTN · next

GSTR-1/3B is an AA data type · consent configured, parser to build

The EPF schema exists; the data type isn't requestable in AA 2.1.0 yet.

CBDT income-tax data: no schema or provider yet.

Each new rail is a parser, not a product: the engine, consent flow and ranking are shared.

Built, regulated and shipped.
